THE LAST OF THE 70'S

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that proper record-keeping is essential for the success of any business or organization. The author provides a detailed overview of the various methods used to collect and analyze data, highlighting the strengths and weaknesses of each approach. The second part of the paper focuses on the application of these methods in a real-world context, using a case study to illustrate the practical implications of the research. The author concludes by discussing the future directions of the field and the potential for further research.

Student life in 1979 was a very special time.

This year marks the end of a decade.

The close of the 70's finds old traditions still being carried on and new ones coming into existence.

These events are what will be remembered since they were such an important part of student life in the 70's decade.

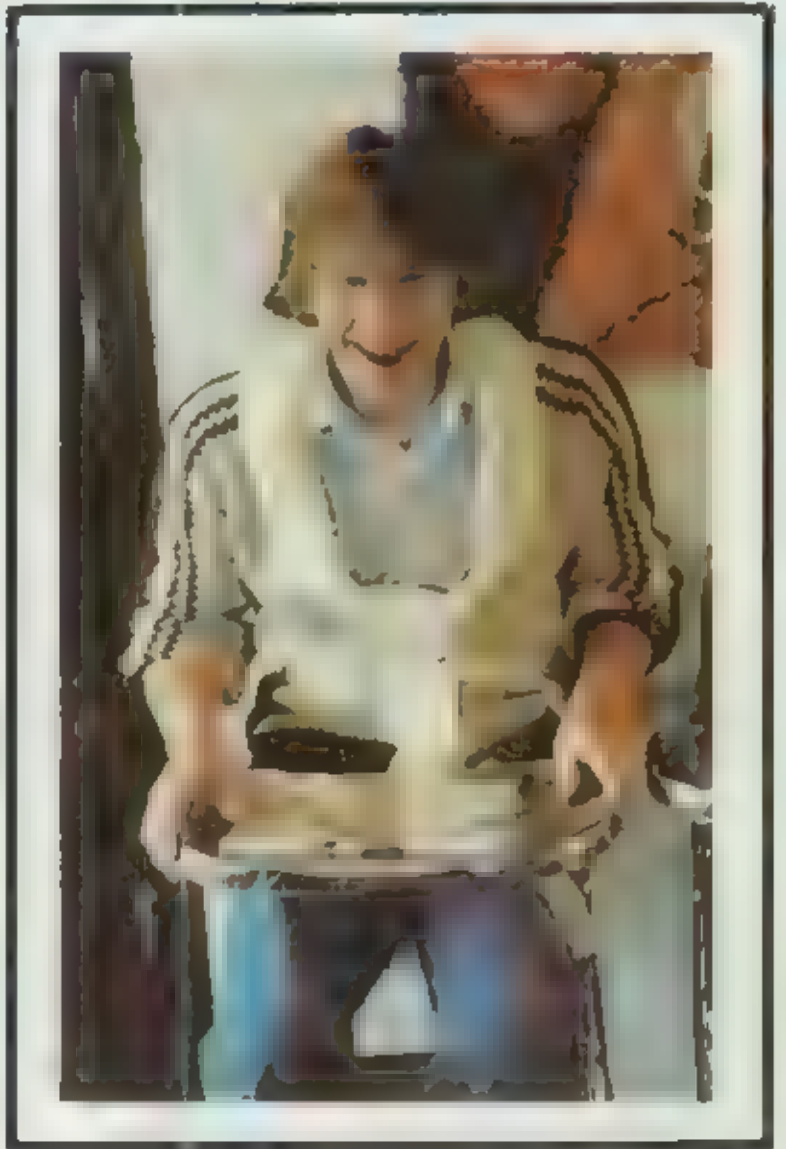

Students took part in many activities - new and old.

The memories of student life at West will be long remembered.

GIRLS SOCCER

A new event on the sports calendar

For the first time, Soccer was offered to the girls at West. Even though this was the first year, there was a large turnout.

The team's lack of experience didn't lead to many wins, but the girls showed enthusiasm and steady improvement throughout the season.

Junior Marilyn Jordan sums up the season like this, "Soccer is a blast. Everyone had a great time and learned a lot."

SOCCER BECOMES CURRICULUM SPORT

This season's squad did start what promises to be a competitive sport at West in the years to come. Soccer became a letter sport for the first time this year and could not always compete with schools with already established programs. However, a highlight of the season has to be the 3-0 shutout of crosstown rival South Albany.

"I enjoyed the season even though we didn't win a lot," said senior Harry Taylor.

But the fact is, if a team consistently competes against a squad better than itself, it will ultimately get better and win some games. This is what is expected from soccer at West in the upcoming years.

GIRL'S CROSS COUNTRY CHASES ELUSIVE CHAMPIONSHIP

From the stand point of improvement, the girls cross-country season was a success.

Gayle Vandeford provided the necessary team leadership by constantly encouraging the team and reflecting a positive self attitude.

Donna Schmidt turned in the fastest times and earned the number one position on the Bulldog team. She also received the John Ludwig Award given on the basis of athletic ability, scholarship, and leadership.

The dual season matches are just in preparation for the district meet. Although no one from West qualified for the state meet, the best times of the season were turned in at district.

RUNNERS TRAVEL DEDICATION ROAD

This year's Cross Country team went into the season with hopes of a district championship and entrance into the State meet.

West had sufficient numbers and talent returning for the season which constructed their high expectations. As the year progressed however, the Bulldogs were not running up to last year's standards, and far below their maximum potential.

They came close to being in the state competition, but a poor district meet showing kept them from it.

But with only two seniors on the squad this year the outlook for the upcoming season is optimistic. With consistent running next season, the state meet will not evade them.

GYMNASTS STRETCH THEIR TALENTS

Gymnastics is an individual sport, but the team concept is a big help to many of the girls. The team is always there to give support in both practice and at meets.

This year's coach was Mark Stevens from OSU. The girls remarked that Coach Stevens did a good job and he helped them in their individual performance well.

Cindi White entered the highest all-around score. And was a district finalist in the vault.

Colleen Beggs and Darla Penning shared the Outstanding Gymnast Award. This award is based on sportsmanship, leadership and athletic ability.

Senior Cindi White comments: "Gymnastics has been an important part of my high school life. I've met a lot of great people, I'm going to miss it".

EIGHT IS ENOUGH FOR STATE COMPETITION

The boys gymnastics team had impressive victories over Corvallis, South Salem, McNary, and North Salem for the season.

The team started out with only eight participants, and those eight carried the load exceptionally well all season long.

The bulk of the scoring came from Brian Field, Tim Ryan, Tom Clifton and David Thompson, all who are seniors and will be difficult to replace. Brian Cotterman, Andreas Loeffler, Chuck Messinger and Tracy Decker were the underclassmen who also played a big role in the season's effectiveness.

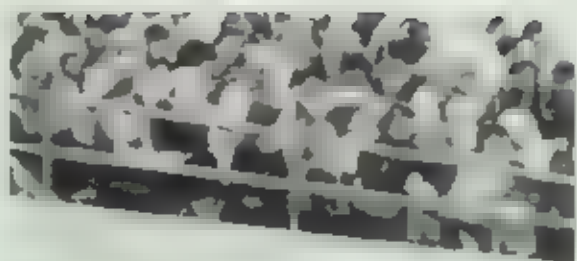

West finished 5th in the district meet with good performances by all those involved. Tim Ryan and Brian Field performed well enough to gain a berth in the state meet.

INJURIES PLAGUE GIRL'S VOLLEYBALL

Over the 78-79 volleyball season the skill level improved tremendously. Despite the many loses indured by the team, their morale was high and they still worked hard and played well.

The highlight of the varsity season was the almost win over McNary. The Bulldogs were ahead with minutes remaining when McNary came from behind and went on to win.

The J.V. team scored the only victory of the season over Lebanon. The game was exciting from the beginning, with the score sea-sawing back and forth between the teams, West finally wrapped it up.

BULLDOGS RETRIEVE WINNING SEASON

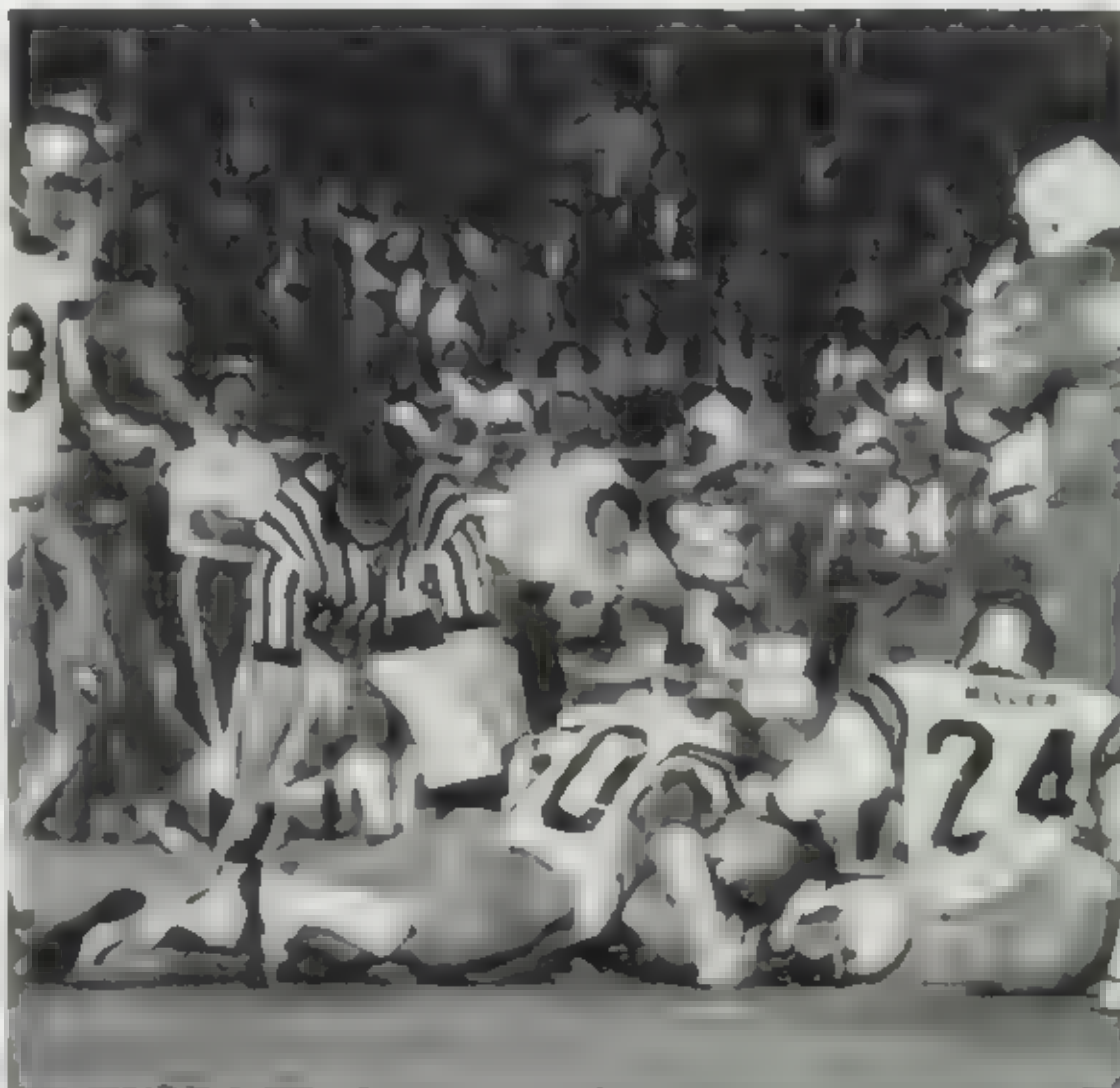

The Bulldogs had a fine 6-3 season. They had some impressive victories of 46-6 over Roosevelt and 35-6 over Lebanon.

The Bulldogs, however, did not make it to the state playoffs. They lost to Crescent Valley 17-21 in the game that would have granted them entrance into the state competition. In that game, Crescent Valley scored with less than a minute left in the game.

Coach Roger Dasch says this about the season, "Our success this season can be attributed a lot to the seniors who were willing to show leadership throughout the season."

West had several all-league selections. Rick Falconer was a first team defensive safety and Jeff Thomas was a defensive lineman. Don Waddell was the second team quarterback, and Roger Nyquist, Dave Edmiston, Stuart Simmons, Perry Packard, Chris McMurtry, and Reed Rainey were all Second team selections. Greg Miller, Bill Peacock, Rick Phillips, Sam Icy, and Steve Wood were honorable mention selections.

If the Bulldogs could have held the Raiders from scoring in the last two minutes, West would have won its bid for state competition. However, this season is one all students can look back on and be proud of.

J.V. FOOTBALL SHOWS PROMISE

West started out this season optimistically with three consecutive wins over North Salem, Jackson High of Portland, and Lebanon; but from there they faltered, losing their final six games.

The Bulldogs, despite constant losses, showed improvement as the season progressed. A couple of their contests were lost by slim margins. Coach Sabatka said, "The team was fundamentally solid and should have won more games."

There is a couple of reasons why West had such a frustrating season. One very substantial reason was that they were not very big physically, another was their lack of execution in critical periods of the game.

Homecoming week began October 2, 1978. The excitement started Monday with voting for the court. The dubbing assembly on Tuesday announced the princesses.

Wednesday brought the powder puff game. The girls prepared themselves three weeks in advance. With practices five days a week. All this led to a startling tie of 0-0. With seniors ahead.

Dress-up day was Thursday. Sophomores wore pajamas; juniors dressed in sports uniforms; seniors represented cowboys.

Juniors won hall competition with comical illustrations of the football players and coach Dasch. Other halls were decorated with brightly colored posters and crepe paper. Blue and Gold Day and the coronation assembly brought the festivities to a close.

FALL PLAY OPENS DRAMA SEASON

"The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man in the Moon Marigolds" was the title of the fall play of 78 and 79. This year the West Albany Drama Department added a new twist to the direction of the play by using two directors instead of one. Jim Fletcher teamed up with Larry McAllister to produce the play that took three months of practice to acquire the emotional feeling of the characters shown.

The play offered a different viewpoint of life, and the audience, was totally enveloped with the performance.

MYSTICAL MOMENTS REVEAL CHRISTMAS COURT

An early snowfall set the mood for "Mystical Moments", the theme for the 1978 Christmas dance. Chaperones, alumni, and students danced to the music of Lady Luck from eight to eleven.

The traditional selection of the court was changed. No bake sale or candy sale took place; a simple vote decided the court. The senior girls were Queen Tracie Kenyon, princesses Jackie Blair and Lisa Niebuhr, followed by junior princess Joan Thomas and sophomore princess Pam Whitaker.

Thanks go to the class of '79 for the elaborate decorations. The colors used were burgundy, silver and white. Crepe paper streamers and silver garland hung from the ceiling to give a "mystical" effect.

HIGH HOOPERS SHOOT FOR DISTRICT

In recent years, West Albany Basketball has been a symbol of success to the rest of the league, and the community. West is usually in the race for the District Championship or at least a berth in the league playoffs. This season, however, even though there were fewer victories, the team was far from being a failure.

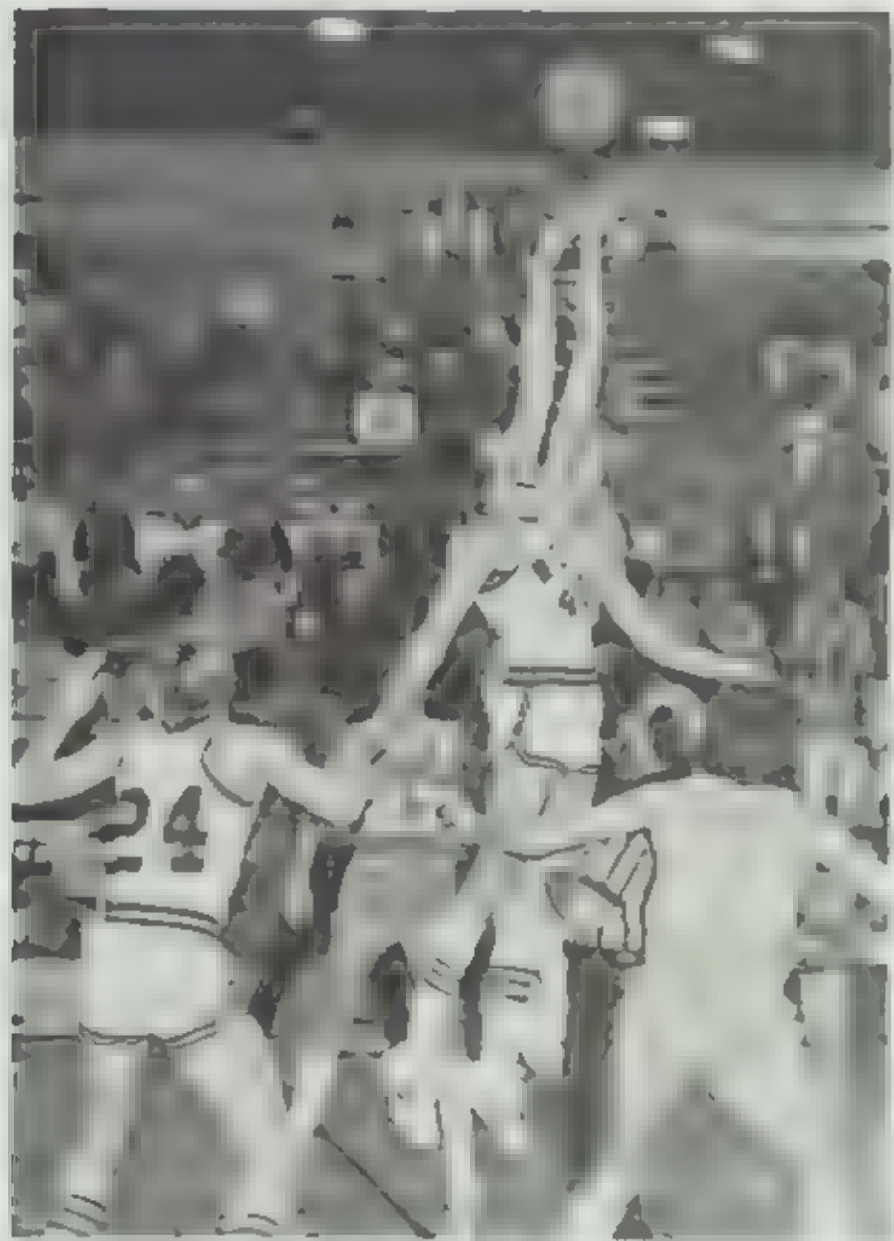

With five more league victories the Bulldogs would have made the playoffs. Five of West's league losses were by a trifling sum of 13 points.

Senior Craig Cunningham was the team's leading scorer. Don Waddell led in assists despite being injured for the last two games, Junior Perry Packard was the top rebounder on the team.

JV BULLDOGS POST 10-6 SEASON

West was not a very big team in terms of size, and as a consequence they had to learn to rebound. Rich Martin responded with double figures in several games, Wally Ordeman and David Pierce were very effective rebounders also.

Leadership at the guard positions was distributed among David Yee, Greg Rapp, and Jon Killinger. The three often combined to run an effective full court press. West was quick this year with deadly shooters and skilled ball handlers.

JV Bulldogs posted a fine 10-6 league record. The team was composed mainly of juniors, and their experience proved beneficial throughout the season.

SOPHOMORE BASKETBALL LEADS LEAGUE

If there was a League Championship in Sophomore Basketball, then this season's Bulldogs certainly would have earned it.

West posted an excellent 12-4 league record. Of those four losses, two of them were by a frivolous one point. This fantastic league record is quite an achievement because in the Bulldogs' previous season competition they went almost winless.

Says Coach Steve Kunke, "We did everything pretty well, but sometimes we would just get out of sync a little bit at times."

SWIM TEAM KICKS TO GLORY

The swimming team's season was much better than its .500 record showed. The hard winter weather, which cancelled many school activities, caused a setback in training.

At district several swimmers came through with top performances. Senior Mike Phillips placed first in the 200 yd freestyle and second in the 500 yd freestyle. Ann Swink stole the show with record breaking finishes in the 200 yd freestyle, the 100 yd freestyle, and the 400 yd freestyle relay. The other members of the relay team were Lisa Bond, Raemi Burleson, and Kirsten Holbo.

The divers, Robin Ginet, and Alice Reiling earned many points for the Bullfrogettes during the season.

GRAPPLERS HOLD OFF OPPONENTS

This was a very successful year for the wrestlers. If not a team success, it was a personal success. Greg Miller and Mark McLain placed second in the district meet. McLain is only a sophomore and is expected to be a district title competitor for the coming two years.

Rick Johnson had 17 pins which was almost good enough to set a new Albany record. Joe Resch had wrestled well and had around 10 pins for the season. Todd Prosa was wrestling well but an injury ended his season abruptly.

There were only five seniors on the squad this season. Says Coach Glenn, "we are just a young team just starting to see its potential. Next year we should be competitive with anyone."

1. Senior Grapplers take a breather during off-season. 2. Wrestlers warming up. 3. Jim Fritag takes down position. 4. Wrestling practice takedowns. 5. Coach Blum's practice.

GIRLS SUFFER FOURTH QUARTER BLUES

Once again the Bulldogs had a long season. The season was a disappointment in the wins column; but with the exception of a few games, the girls gave most teams a run for their money.

The main problem with this year's team was the inability to play a full 32 minutes of good consistent basketball. The team showed sparks of playing up to their potential; but sparks don't win games.

The girls also had a problem with injuries this season. At one time there was 3 people side lined with various problems.

This year's crowd were much improved over past years. The team also was given a lot of support from the Blue and Gold Varsity Rally.

JV TODAY, VARSITY TOMORROW

J.V. sports are designed with giving younger players a chance to gain experience. This years team was very small in numbers, so this goal was accomplished.

The J.V.'s had a rough time of it this year. Before Christmas Vacation two key team members were moved up to varsity. Then later on, three girls quit.

Under the new coaching of David Kannier, the girls learned many basic skills that will prepare them for varsity in the coming years.

The highlight of the season was the win over Lebanon. The girls fought back from a half time deficit to finally win by five points. Of that victory, Coach Kannier remarked "It was super."

SPRING PLAY PLEASES AUDIENCES

You Can't Take It With You highlighted the '79 drama season. Brad Cafarelli stole the limelight with his portrayal of grandpa, the patriarch of the Sycamore clan. The entire cast acted as a foil for grandpa's wit which delighted audiences during the evening performances.

Catherine Wolfe as the young Alice and Mike Martin as the young Kirby, made most convincing lovers which brought the two conflicting families together.

Beth Clingings, the mother of Alice, was the self-styled writer and artist. Curt Hinzman, Beth's husband, played the mad scientist.

Karen Kirkevold, an aspiring ballet dancer and Andreas Loeffler, the printer, rounded out the blood clan. On the fringes of this group were Karen Novak and Scott Roberts who added depth to the antics of the family. Amid all this diversity, Steve Cooper played Boris Kolenkhov, a Russian dance instructor. Steve was an exciting addition as an outside member of the family to which he brought the lovely Grand Dutchess, Laura Eusterman,

Mr. and Mrs. Kirby were played by Matt Colbert (Matt was handicapped by a broken foot two days before the play opened) and Karen McLain who was a believable high-class snoot.

Cincy White did some nice scene stealing with her drunk act. Other supporting members of the play were Dave Moore, Joe Novak, Tom Mickleberry, and Kevin Day.

Roses go to the entire cast and crew for a well done presentation! *Note: Beth Clingings has made every curtain call in her three years at West.

LOVE'S HOLIDAY: GIRL'S LEAGUE SUCCESS

"Love's Holiday" was the fitting theme for this year's Sweetheart Ball. Sponsored by Girl's League, the February prom was quite a success.

Cochairpersons Carl Martinez and Barbara Larney helped turn the cafeteria into a romantic dance floor by decorating with colors of pastel pink, yellow, and white. A collection of green shrubs and plants surrounding a pond accented the room along with a white picket fence.

While under the reign of King Jason and Queen Jill, one hundred and thirty-five couples got their pictures taken, found their programs and favors, and danced to the music of Lady Luck.

Girl's League members work on the theme poster, designed by Sheila Lowery.

GIRL'S GOLF SANDTRAPPED FOR STATE

The girls golf team had a successful season this year. There were eight girls on the team, almost twice as many as last year. The girls had high hopes for state, but couldn't rise to the caliber of the competition. They placed a disappointing third behind Crescent Valley and South Salem. Lisa Gardner, Doris Waddel and Linda Groves were the low scorers for the team.

BOY'S GOLF TEES OFF FOR STATE

Coach Roger Dasch led his small but efficient army of 13 golfers into the 1978-79 season. With each golfer doing his best to excel in each round, they were rewarded by beating all but 3 teams in league matches. Don Waddell, Rick Falconer, Joe Saboe, and Mark Landes played consistently throughout the year, thus enabling West to finish fourth in the district match. Don Waddell won the Albany Democrat Herald Outstanding Golfer award. This award is given to the golfer with the overall low scores for the entire season. Joe Saboe received the award for the most improved golfer.

GIRLS "LOVE" TENNIS

This years Girls Tennis Team was not as successful as in past years. But the girls developed a very close relationship with each other and with the coaches.

With individual hard work and plenty of team spirit the bulldogs finished the season with a 3-4-1 district dual match record.

Many early season matches were cancelled because of rain. But by the time district came along sunshine was a everyday friend.

This year the Ted Brown Memorial Award was given to LeAnne Kaspar. The Barbara McCormick was awarded to Martha Eusterman.

BOY'S TENNIS TEAM NETS DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

The boys' tennis team this season, had a streak of success perhaps not matched before. They were undefeated for the season and became District Champions.

Pat Garcia was runnerup in district and went to the quarterfinals at state. The doubles team of Wally Ordeman and Mark Nicholson also went to state. They lost their first match but went on to the quarterfinals of the consolation round.

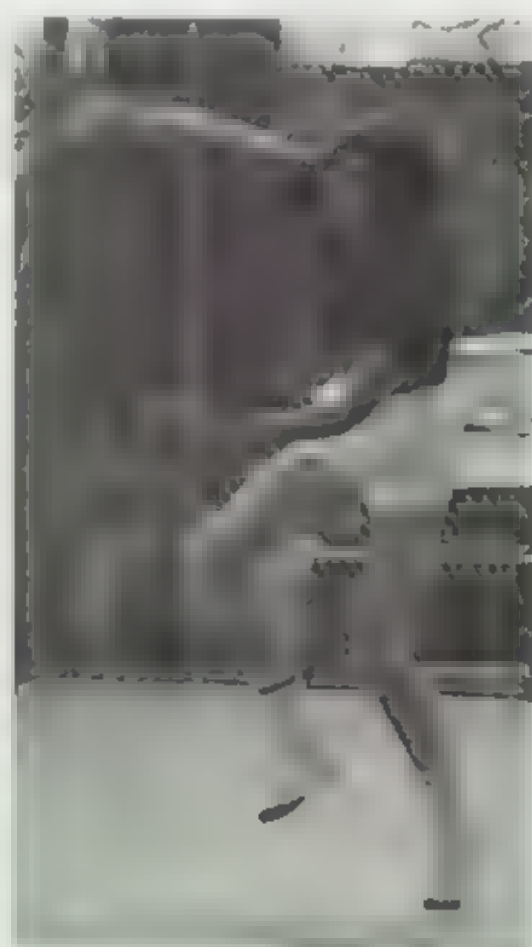

Reflecting on the year, Coach John Vandepas said, "We were able to maintain a high level of team spirit throughout the season and this undoubtedly helped us win the district title. I think the season has been a rewarding one for all concerned."

Pat Garcia and many of the other top players are returning which gives the boys' team an excellent chance of being district champions again next year.

INDIVIDUAL EFFORT HIGHLIGHTS GIRL'S TRACK SEASON

West girls' track finished their season 3-5. It wasn't a bad finish considering that they were 0-4 at mid-season. The first four teams that are among the top in the state. The young team came back, however, with three straight wins and then completed their season with a close but dissapointing loss to McNary.

West placed eighth in the District meet. Although the Bulldogs qualified no one for state, junior Donna Schmidt took fourth place at District in the 3000 meters breaking the school record for the third time this season.

BOYS TRACK TEAM GOES UNDEFEATED IN DUAL MEETS

This season's boys varsity track team accomplished something unprecedented by any other WA team. They managed to go undefeated in league dual meets.

West maintained a high level of enthusiasm throughout the entire year. Coach Luster commented "This team had as much unity and team spirit as any of the other teams I've had in the past."

Tony Rothengass, Mike Presley, and Kevin Gero had second place finished at the district meet, and earning them a berth in the state meet.

For the season, Tim Smith was given the Trinity award for leadership and overall track ability.

JV TRACK TEAM OUTSCORES VARSITY

The varsity track team receive a lot of publicity this year, but the junior varsity squad didn't. The JV's went undefeated, with far more impressive scores.

In four of their meets, they scored over 100 of the 145 possible points.

As this season's JV squad was not acquainted with losing; next season, many of the JV'ers will be looking for varsity positions and more victories.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL RAINED OUT

Girl's softball was back again this year, but as a varsity sport this time.

Unfortunately, the girls had a bad time with rain. Five of their games were canceled and were never made up.

The highlight of the season was a win over top seeded Crescent Valley. The girls won the game by one point in an extra inning.

Much time and effort were put in by this year's girls and many will return next year in search of success.

WEST IS BEST OUTSCORES RIVAL

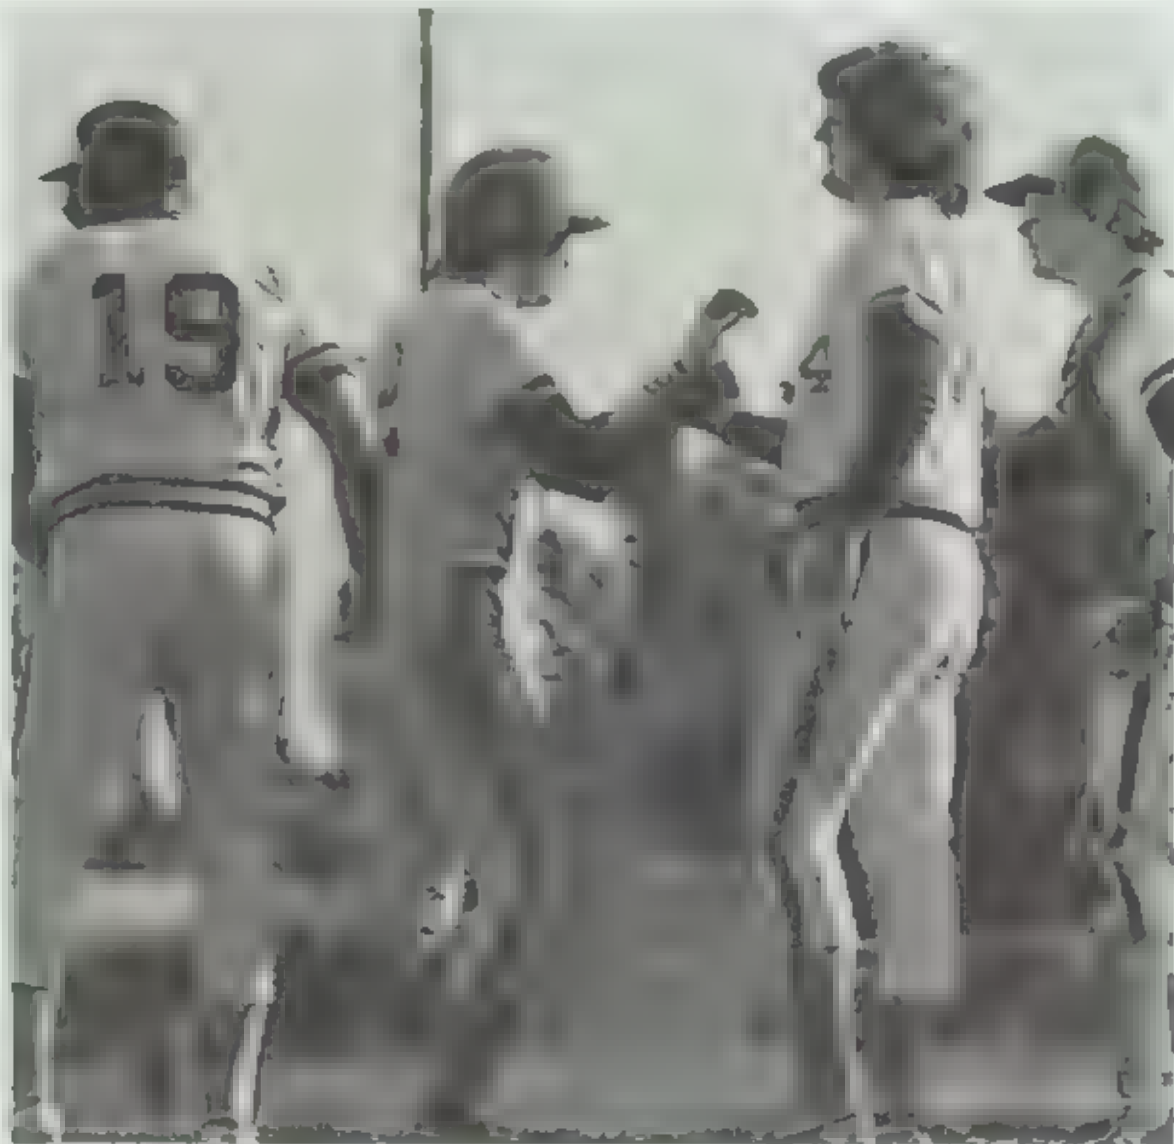

Experience and skill were the main features for the varsity team this year. The team, made up mostly of seniors, had a trying year on the diamond.

The Bulldogs didn't have quite as many wins as they would like, but they pulled together to beat their cross-town rival, the South Albany Rebels.

Relief pitching seemed to be a key in the wins West acquired. If a pitcher tired, another could take his place. The Bulldogs performed well as a team so the losses they received were taken in stride.

JV'S DEVELOP SKILLS

According to first year coach Pete Domagala, the JV baseball team this season was firm in every area except the infield. "The pitchers had an ERA of 2.5, the outfield was solid, the hitting in the later half of the season was excellent. We just had too many infield errors." In the second half of the season, the Bulldogs were averaging 11 hits per game.

In the years to come, when the infield improves, the Varsity stands to be the beneficiary of the JV teams talent.

A LITTLE BIT OF HEAVEN" DELIGHTS SENIOR CLASS

The class of 1980 provided the senior class with a prom they will never forget. This was the last prom of the year and the final prom for the seniors. The theme was "A Little Bit Of Heaven," which was appropriately carried out by such decorations as a parachute-suspended ceiling and shades of blue and white crepe paper.

There was much excitement throughout the evening with social gatherings before and after the prom. Squirt guns and the crowning of Queen Stacy were the highlights of the evening.

THE END OF THE BEGINNING

West Albany's 24th Annual Commencement took place on June 5 at 8:00, honoring the class of 1979.

The class assembled on the football field as the band provided a processional. An invocation was offered up by the Rev. Albert Chan.

The Senior Ensemble pleased the crowd with vocal selections, "I've Been Searchin' So Long," (arranged by Julie Miller and LeAnne Kaspar) and "You'll Never Walk Alone."

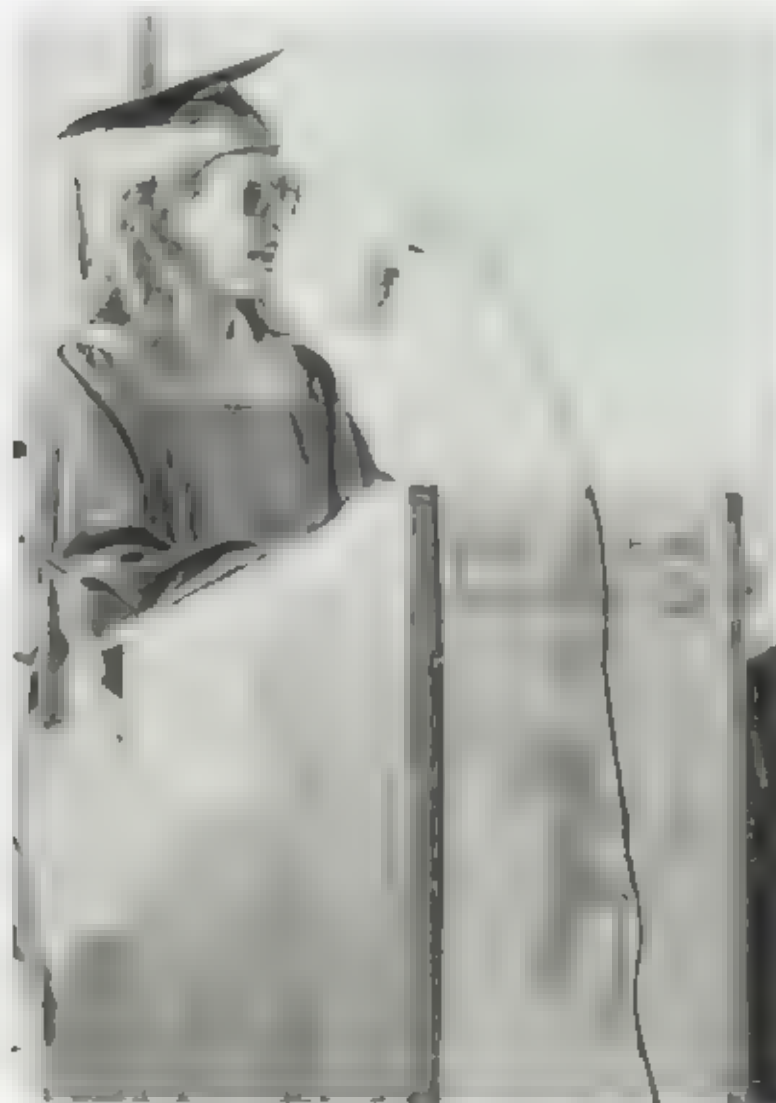

Student speakers Jeanette Lessick and Tom Calverly commented on living each day to the fullest and doing the best with what you've got. The band played "Exaltation" followed by introductions, greetings, and presentation of the class.

Diplomas were presented, tassels were switched from right to left, and the class of '79 became "graduates."

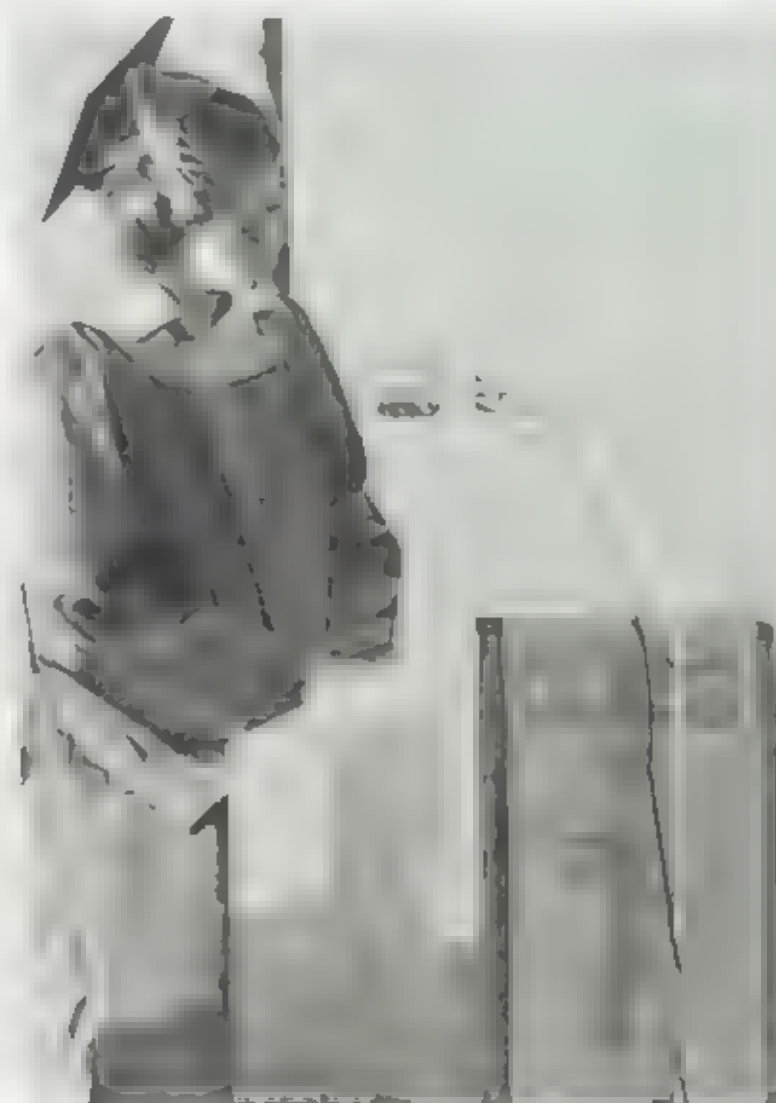

The ceremony ended with a tearful rendition of the Alma Mater, the Benediction, and a recessional. The Senior All-Night Party was held at the Albany Elks' Club.

CHOIR GROUPS SEEK SPRING TOUR

The West Albany Choir activities this year included the annual Bathtub Push, a candy sale and various concerts. Money was raised towards an extensive choir tour in the spring.

NEW DIRECTOR ENVOKES BUSY SCHEDULE

The band groups underwent a major change this year. Ted Bazany replaced Tom Hogan as director. Mr. Bazany came to West from Muskegon High School in Michigan. Basically, the program followed the established curriculum.

And yet this change came about very smoothly. Concert Band attended the district conference in Eugene and recieved an "Excellent" rating (2). Half-time presentations at football games were still an added attraction.

Don Ervin led the Pep Band for home basketball games and inspired admirers at half-time and during the game.

BLUE AND GOLD RALLIES SHARE THE SPOTLIGHT

With the enforcement of Title IX the traditional nine member varsity rally was discontinued. Two separate squads of nine members each were formed in order to support all the girls and boys athletic events. Spring elections placed 12 girls and 4 boys on two squads, the blue squad and the gold squad. In November an additional tryout was held to elect one guy to each team.

The two squads alternated cheering at football and volleyball games in the fall and then during the winter at the boy's and girl's basketball games.

The many hours of practice, the long rides to games, the planning of better pep assemblies and the noisy 6th period class came to a long awaited end in February. The members could relax for the remainder of the year and laugh over the fun and hectic times such as, NCA chants "Zip Zip Zippy!", no outfits for the 1st football game, Carrie's Xmas present from Conon, and the first game using stunts.

J.V. RALLY LEADS J.V. CROWDS

September 25, 1979 was an exciting and nervous day for the 78-79 J.V. rally squad. Many hours were spent perfecting dance routines and cheers, to present to the student body at the first pep assembly of the year. The results of the tryouts were anxiously received at the days end in Mrs. Hart's room.

The moment the team was revealed, their season and work began. In addition to their required duties of cheering for the J.V. football and basketball teams, they attended three sophomore basketball games and one girls' J.V. game.

The J.V. rally was fortunate this year to have the sixth period rally class. They found this time valuable for their practices, sign painting and organization of fund raising. Working in the concession stand, selling Oregon Herald newspaper subscriptions, and having a bottle drive helped them pay for their outfits.

PEP CLUB SUPPORTS ALL SPORTS

The Pep Club members could be described as little mysterious elves because very few students know who it is that makes all the posters for the basketball games and gives the athletes recognition by putting signs on their lockers. The club is made up of about 20 girls from all three grades. They are the ones that put hard work into supporting the Bulldog teams.

The club forms at the beginning of the year and elects officers to organize the club's services. The club made and sold baked goods for a week during lunch, baked pies and sold them at the Christmas Bazaar, plus sold spirit buttons to raise money for sign-making supplies and to possibly have the Bulldog, on the gym wall, repainted.

The club would like to grow and do more to promote school spirit. They hope to do this by recruiting new members and finding more activities and ideas. President Shelley Millsap comments about the year. "With the people we had we really tried hard to promote school spirit."

DRILL : SUCCESS

This was an especially busy year for the Hi-Steppers. They started off by capturing first place in the Timber Carnival Parade. The team also earned another first place in the Veteran's Day Parade. The girls entertained the crowds at football and basketball games and as an added attraction performed at the AFS Chicken Barbeque.

In January, the Hi-Steppers hosted the largest competition in the state. Twenty-seven teams attended. Some came from as far away as Wheeler and Klamath Falls.

There are many money raising adventures such as the Chili Feed. The profit goes toward sending the team to the state competition in Portland where they are expected to do well.

GIRLS LEAGUE

ESTABLISHES NEW TRADITION

The Girls League found 78-79 a year for change. The traditional theme for the year was discontinued; each activity had its own theme. The Miss Merry Christmas Court, which the club sponsors, was changed from a fund raising activity, (the three girls on the court sold baked goods), to a new system of honoring five girls for the Christmas Prom.

The club was fortunate to have a few dedicated cabinet members. These members attended the monthly pot-lucks and worked hard to keep the activities going. The Sweetheart Ball, the biggest event the club sponsors, was a great success. The turn-out for the "Dessert For Dad" was outstanding and the entertainment by the daughters was touching to all. Despite the lack of participation the GL contributed many fun activities for the student body throughout the year.

Fund-raising projects seemed to get many girls involved in the club. Projects such as selling Almond Roca candy and a bake sale at the Christmas Bazaar helped pay for the bills. The club also sponsored a dance to donate money to "Save The Children".

ANNUAL STAFF CAPTURES 78-79

Memories: This was the main idea for the 1979 annual. Four returning staff members and eleven new ones worked to capture these memories and preserve them for students at West.

The greatest problem that faces any annual staff is deciding how to produce a yearbook that is creative and original. This problem was successfully overcome by the staff, resulting in a book that effectively captured the many memories of a year at West Albany.

WHIRLWIND WHIRLS OUT SCHOOL PAPER

The Whirlwind Staff, led by Nancy Buell, advisor; and Mike Forney, managing editor had a productive and beneficial year.

The Whirlwind changed its format this year from 12 pages to eight pages and from coming out monthly to coming out bi-monthly. Other department editors were, Opinion editor, Roger Nyquist; Feature editor, Steve Craker; News editor, Suzzane Stalick and Linda Groves. Other staff members combined forces to improve the paper and worked together as a team. The paper, over the year, improved greatly. Staff members learned that in time they could hammer out the flaws and produce the kind of paper that the West Albany student body and faculty looks forward to reading.

DECA CAPTURES STATE AWARDS

The West Albany DECA Club had a productive and triumphant year. DECA Members proved their abilities at a state conference held in Portland. The Bulldogs placed in seven major events.

Cliff Adams, advisor, has done a remarkable job in the two years he has advised the Bulldog Corner. The changes in the way the store is run truly makes it more accessible and easier for the students, as well as the students who run it.

SPEECH LEAGUE BRINGS HOME 11 TROPHIES

Many have heard about Speech League for one reason or another, but most team members would agree that you could never describe it; you only experience it. The primary goal is to compete in the numerous Speech and Debate tournaments throughout the State during the school year. However, that purpose is only a fraction of what really happens.

A typical Speech League excursion usually begins at 6:00 or 7:00 in the morning with Miss Jakes praying that the van will hold that many of us, let alone start, and that Terese won't be late again. No sooner do we get on the road than Craig discovers he has forgotten the major part of his speech while Greg and Bret begin a nauseating round of their favorite theme song "My Ding-a-Ling"

As we arrive, Pennie and Don immediately start to check out the competition.. Pennie, the boys, Don... the girls

Jim, our honored president starts the academic ball rolling by organizing a keep away game with Cheryl's ears. (Don't panic, they are visual aides for her Walt Disney speech). Ms. Jakes pouts to her premature gray hair, order is restored, and the tournament gets underway.

The first round of competition gets over and everyone is famished. We look to Janna and Laurie who usually supply treats. However, all that remains are the crumbs on Matt's chin and the smudges on Jim's teeth. Cathy begins a debater style oration on the evils of greed

Markus (our favorite exchange student) panics as we all move toward the ice-cream stand. We find out later someone told him that guys in America must pay for the girls Round two and three are over before we know it and we all anxiously await the awards assembly. As usual, it is late so we have a few hours to fill. And do we know how to fill time! Shall we organize another death defying frisbee game (like the one where Matt breaks his foot) or shall we embarrass Ms. Jakes by singing love songs to her in a full 1000 seat auditorium like we did at U of O): or shall we auction off the trophies and make a few extra bucks?

The tournament director finally begins announcing the winners. The audience courteously applauds until, low and behold we win one! Everyone yells out "hey, that's my girl!" as Matilda with her face as red as Sally's hair, goes up front to accept the trophy.

Traveling home is usually a little quieter. One can only hear the rustling of ballots and derogatory comments about the judges being made in muffled tones.

Karen's stomach growls and someone begins a mouth watering recitation of Pachino's menu. Why not, we need to celebrate, not only are we great, but we're getting better!

This year took us to 12 tournaments at which we won 11 trophies. Speech League is learning, Speech League is winning, but as our outgoing president puts it, "we're family!"

Karen McLain practices speech for district tournament.

ALTRUSA CLUB HONORS SENIOR GIRLS

LeAnne Kaspar

KaCee Callahan

The Altrusa Club is an international service organization for women holding executive or professional positions.

The Altrusa Club of Albany, formed in 1952, has been a leading organization in service to the community. Projects have included hospital pledges and equipment assistance through high school scholarships, and clothing provided for needy students in Albany.

Altrusa's "Founder's Fund Vocational Aid" awards help assist women to become self-supporting.

Each year, the Altrusa Club of Albany honors high school girls for either their outstanding ability in scholastic, leadership, athletic, or personality area. In past years, a girl was chosen for each month of the school year and honored at one of the Club's meetings. This year, seven senior girls were honored altogether. The girls and their mothers modeled clothes for a downtown merchant and were guest of honor at a banquet.

LATINUS OPTIMUS ITERUM EST

Latin is again the greatest! This year's club was the only chapter of the Junior Classical League in Oregon. As members of the League, they swept into northern California, togaed and sandeled, to participate in a statewide conference of over 400 Latin students. Earlier in the year, the group sold its homemade Roman pizza, enjoyed its annual Christmas Party, sang Latin carols in hallways, and later cavorted among the Roman ruins at West's first Toga Dance. The club also sponsored its first Latin Hi-Q Invitational Tournament, pitting the Latin 3-4 team against Latin 2. The Concilium Romanum of 78-79 has outdone itself, much to the consternation of the group's leader, Mr. McGraith.

"Things here are quite different in America" - Markus Heer

Mark, from Zurich, Switzerland, attended West during the school year of 1978-79. His Hosts were Troy and Rick McClain.

"I really like Oregon!" - Karen Muller

Karen stayed with Lisa Hiddleston, while she attended the second semester of this year. She was from White Plains, New York.

"Rome (N.Y.) is a real neat city!" - Sally Needham

Sally sent on a second semester exchange to Rome, New York.

AFS IMPROVES FOREIGN AFFAIRS

The American Field Service Club expanded its membership to become the biggest AFS group ever established at West.

The club's major projects include: helping with the Adult Chapter of AFS on the Chicken Bar-B-Que, hosting a Christmas bazaar, serving at the AFS banquet, and hosting a weekend exchange for all of the Foreign exchange students from the district.

West Albany AFS hosted one foreign-exchange student, and one domestic exchange, while they sent one domestic exchange and one foreign exchange during the summer. The exchange student West sent during the summer was Karen McLain.

The AFS Club, along with Advisor, Jerry Maddy, also visited the "King Tut" exhibit in Seattle. Several other activities took place during the Spring.

FFA PLACES FIRST

The Albany Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, led by President Loel Truelove, participated in many projects during the school year, such as a donkey basketball game and an annual farm machinery show.

Members also attended the FFA district competition and came home carrying numerous honors. As a team, they placed first in soils. Dick Reid walked away with the first place award for proficiency in agriculture placement, and Kim Maillard captured the top award for soil/water management.

At the State Convention, held in Klamath Falls, Darrell Burke was named the all-around State Farmer.

The FFA Chapter also did a fine job of representing West Albany at the Spring and State Fairs.

LEADERSHIP

Leadership class, governing through its second year, experienced much success. Consisting of student body officers, class presidents, and committee heads, the class is designed to give increased opportunities for carrying out the duties of student government. Mr. Pigg and Ms. Jakes served as this year's advisors.

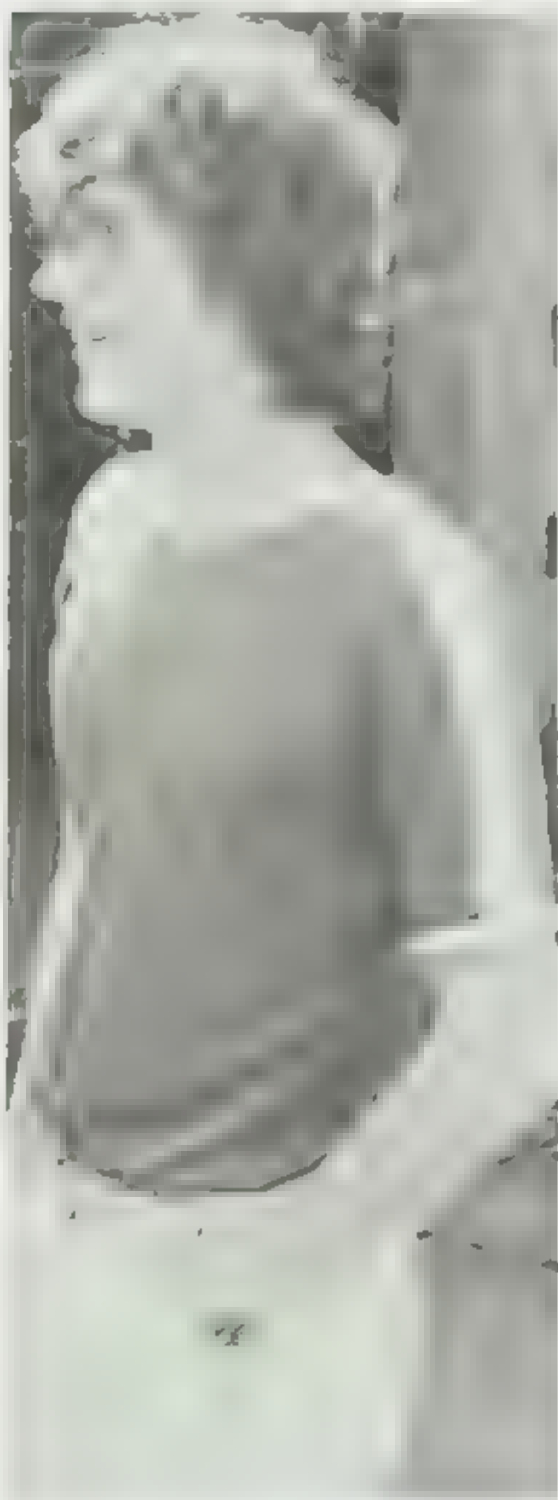

With the class working together, many things were accomplished during the year. A senior citizen's breakfast, the Grand Sweepstakes Award for their entry in the Veteran's Day parade, and an April talent show proved to be a few of the many successful projects that Leadership sponsored. With its new officers coming in at the second semester, the class also was responsible for the school picnic which provided a good time for everyone.

"79" OFFICERS LEAD THE WAY

The class of '79 officers organized early to get the year off to an exciting start. President Mark Hayes and Vice President Margaret Hermans helped a few loyal class members to put on a successful Christmas Prom.

The class conducted several fund raising projects to earn money for the all-night party, held at the Elks Lodge.

All of the class officers join the administration in wishing the class of 1979 the very best of luck.

STRANGERS TO MOST NECESSARY TO ALL

Many people will not recognize these faces, but these people are responsible for many services behind the scenes at West Albany. They prepare our food, keep the building clean, and look after the records. Most students do not realize what a remarkable job these people do for our convenience.

Secretaries Louise Shackelford, Rose Hampton, Tami Taise, Donna Lewis
